I respectfully request that you reject NAB Petition no. 04-160. XM Satellite Radio's ability to share "local" information for it's listeners does not in any way infringe on the ability of local broadcasters in those areas to compete to provide that same information to the same listeners. This is really an issue of competition. In my opinion, XM Satellite Radio offers a product that is simply superior to its over the air wall-to-wall commercial rivals. Simply put, if local broadcasters were doing their job to provide the kind of programming and information their listeners demand, there would be no market for an innovative service like XM Satellite Radio. Please don't allow the fat cats with the NAB to thwart competition by passage of rules or legislation that would limit their competitor's ability to provide programming for its customers.
